Dedication

To the person who has been a teacher and faithful friend to all, who has guided, directed, and helped the students in any task they have undertaken.

Her genuine interest in student welfare, her friendliness, and consideration have endeared her to the hearts of her students.

We, The Senior Class of 1946, dedicate this THE CORINTHIAN to our beloved teacher, Vileigh Austin.

Senior Class History

Classmates, for many years now, we have been sitting in the cinders, so to speak. We will think of the cinders as the work years we spent in high school. We have been trudging along, acquiring the fundamentals of education and the art of living with ourselves and one another. Sitting in the cinders has not been so bad because we have had happy and gay times together. We have obeyed with meekness and humility the rules and regulations of Cinderland. All worthwhile things are gained by a price. We have paid that price as we have written our history through these years.

In the year of 1942, a group of Freshmen, now known as Seniors, entered high school under the leadership of Mrs. Watson and Mr. Ensor. We felt so mature and experienced at first, to actually be in high school, but our Sophomore friends soon put us in our places, and made us feel our freshness. We took up our diverse studies and the changing of classes energetically and enthusiastically under our new teachers. We experienced the thrills and good times that only Freshmen can, through a happy year.

With our Sophomore title, we also undertook more responsibilities in outside activities, as well as in our school work. Our teachers during that year were Mrs. Watson, Miss Austin, and Mr. Ensor.

Our third year in high school was an enjoyable one. We felt quite important as tenth graders. As we looked back over our records and activities in high school, they seemed unimportant and small to us. We resolved to do bigger and better things. We began to fulfill our resolution by first helping to present our annual Hallowe'en Carnival. It was a huge success and helped us a great deal financially. We presented our first class play, "Marrying Margaret," which increased our funds for giving our friends the Seniors of '44, a Junior-Senior Banquet. Mr. Freeman was our new principal that year.

Our fourth year in high school was a memorable one. We felt all of our importance by being eleventh graders. That year we presented another class play, "I Will, I Won't!", which truly proved to be a success. Miss Austin was our sponsor.

Now, we have come to the portal leading out into life. This last year in our high school has been one of combined study and pleasure. We have grown somewhat beyond the grind of the Junior year into the larger freedom that goes with being Seniors.

In the fall of '45, the graduating students of Archer Lodge School, together with the graduating students of Corinth Holder School, met to form what is now the Seniors of '46. Our class is the first graduating class from the twelfth grade, and we deeply feel proud and honored at this wonderful opportunity. We have enrolled in the Senior Class 29 students, 8 which joined us from Archer Lodge. They are Charles Barnes, Jake Barnes, Sallie Sue Barnes, Silas Cooke, Carolyn Eason, Pauline Gardner, Maxine Pleasants, and Dan Wall.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

This last year in high school was a glorious one with many activities. Our biggest event was the Senior Play, "Oh, Promise Me!" It was a modern comedy which made a real hit with our audience. Next was the Junior-Senior Banquet that the Junior Class gave. It was formal and the decorations included both of the classes' colors. We, the Seniors of '46, have had the most versatile year, and have enjoyed every minute of it—even classes. We grew to know and love each other and our teachers, and many of us found friendships that have lasted and grown together, and which we hope will continue.

But now we have reached the end of the year, and of our high school course, and we must start again as Freshmen. We are entering a life new and untried, but with the confidence that we shall graduate from it at last with honors.

We, the Class of '46, look forward to graduation with the purpose of carrying on our school's honor and traditions. Thus we say, "Hail and Farewell Corinth Holder School, from the Class of '46."

—HAZEL BUNN, Historian.

THE CLIMAX

Now we've come to the end of our Senior year
We sit here alone with our thoughts.
The chimes ring out in a melodious strain
For joys the twelve years have brought.

Do you know what the end of these glad years
Can mean to our loyal hearts?
Our school days are over and as we reach our goal
The dear friends have to part.

Yes, this is the end of the perfect years
Near the start of a journey too.
It leaves us sad but with great memories
That will always be fond and true.

Surely experience has touched these brief years
And left heartaches that never fade.
But we find at the end of these perfect years
The souls of the friends we've made.

—IRENE HUOPANA, Poet.

Senior Class Will

We, the class of '46, in twenty-nine individual and distinct parts, being of sound mind and in a charitable mood, do make and publish this our Last Will and Testament.

To the Faculty: We will our everlasting thanks for their guidance and instruction.

To the Parents: We give our love and grateful acknowledgement for their efforts to encourage us in each of our undertakings.

To the Juniors: We will acknowledge we never did achieve.

Individuals:

I, Allene Ellis, will my day dreaming to Janice Hocutt.

I, Maxine Pleasants, will my winning smile to Tommie Holder.

I, James Congleton, will my big mouth and the ability to use it to my brother,
A. B. Congleton.

I, Jesse D. High, will my good naturedness to Gene Fowler.

I, Eloise Hocutt, will my baby ways to Evelyn Davis.

I, Imogene Narron, will my love for basketball to Polly O'Neal.

I, Velma Creech, will my neatness to Irene Narron and Pauline Whitley.

I, Ada Mae Creech, will my place as the quietest girl in the Senior Class to Mary Lee Pleasant and Edna Barham.

I, Harold Boyette, will my good looks to Gene Castleberry.

I, Sallie Sue Barnes, will my high school twist to Rachel Moody.

I, Pauline Gardner, will my ability to make "goo-goo" eyes to Lila Wilder.

I, Jake Barnes, will my long tongue to anybody that can use it as well as I can.

I, Irene Huopana, will my conceitedness to Dorothy Johnson.

I, Connie Mack Bunn, will my awkwardness to Matt Ward.

I, Maude Pope, will my fast talking to Lois Baykin who really doesn't need it.

I, Carolyn Eason, will my wavy hair to Alton Stanley.

I, Hursell Fowler, will my wavy hair to Alton Stanley.

I, Silas Cooke, and I, Charles Barnes, will my love for Clayton to most anybody that would like to have it.

I, Hazel Bunn, will my sparkling eyes to Julia Anne Perry, who might make better use of them.

I, Mary Ellen Cooke, will my beloved French book to Clara Lee Parrish and Ruby Ray Gordon.

I, Helen Davis, will my drape shape to Daphne Eason and Virginia Raper.

I, Charles Wilder, will my love for Archer Lodge girls to J. B. Richardson.

I, Herbert Price, will my pigeon toes to Alfred O'Neal.

I, Louise Thomasson, will my meek ways to Betty May Murphrey and Henry Claire Greene.

We, John Narron and Fletcher Stancil, will our good ole Southern laugh to Luby Snipes.

We, Dan Wall and Bobby Brown, will our "way" with the girls to all the Junior boys.

Class Prophecy

As I walked into the Land of Tomorrow I saw John Narron as manager of the Cardinals baseball club. In the field of science I saw Maxine Pleasants as a great laboratory technician. Irene Hucpana had changed her life from a laboratory technician to be the wife of Junior May. Fletcher Stancil had finished Oak Ridge and was now a lieutenant in Uncle Sam's Army. The most religious student in the class was Hazel Bunn and I saw her on her first missionary trip to China. In the field of matrimony I saw Sallie Sue Barnes the wife of the country's leading playboy, Harold Boyette. I also saw Ada Mae Creech marrying one of her childhood sweethearts. It really took her a long time to make up her mind.

Helen Davis had now finished King's Business College and was the secretary of our governor. Among those who desired a beauty course so much, I saw Pauline Gardner had just completed her course and was now a private hairdresser for her cousin, Ava Gardner in Hollywood. I also saw Velma Creech and Mory Ellen Cooke had both finished their courses and now own a fine beauty shop.

During our school days all we could hear was Carolyn Eason wanting a motorcycle. Now that he has one he has started his own motorcycle business.

Although we had a very smart class, we had only one inventor, Dan Woll, and his favorite invention was kissproof lipstick.

I saw that we had two members of our class that had settled down to good old farming. James Congleton was finally talked out of joining the Navy by Rachel Moody and is now a successful farmer. There was also Allene Ellis, who married Louis Driver and settled down on the red clay near Middlesex.

Herbert Price made such a success in publishing the school paper and annual that he was the editor of our daily paper.

Out of such a large class we had only one nurse, Eloise Hocutt, and she married a doctor from Rex Hospital. Charles Barnes had so many wrecks during his school year that he decided to open up a used car business to catch up on some old car and motorcycle repairing.

We had several students to talk about going to Meredith but we had one who could take it. Imogene Narron graduated from Meredith and she is really going places. Louise Thomasson sold so many oatmeal cookies in the school store that she decided to open a bakery of her own. I saw Bobby Rex Brown and Hursell Fowler partners in a small pool room in Zebulon and doing fine patronizing their own business. I saw Silas Cooke still at the same old routine, a former during the week and a wolf in Clayton during the weekend.

Charles Wilder had graduated from Carolina and I saw him keeping accounts for the Rockefeller Trust Company. Connie Mack Bunn had overcome his clumsiness and was now an expert jeweler. Maude Pope was now a successful manager of the waitresses in a large cafe in New York.

The smallest of the class, Jesse Dwight High, was now in the town of Wendell walking between rows of tobacco wiping sweat and chanting the auctioneers' song.
